Skills Dictionary

Skills dictionary presents a compiled view on the priority skills across the sector. A skill charter is structured in a way that outlines the key abilities, knowledge, and contextual understanding required to achieve a specific proficiency for a particular skill. It provides clear guidance on how a skill should be demonstrated and performed. Skill charters can be used as a tool for assessment, training, policy development, etc. to ensure that the sector workforce is acquiring and applying skills in line with industry requirements.

This report presents charters for both technical and general skills in the subsequent section.

Introduction to technical skill charters

Technical skill charters are meticulously developed to provide an in-depth reference guide for priority technical skills necessary for professionals within the sector as per the needs of the labor market in the Kingdom. These charters are designed to offer detailed insights into the specific technical skills that align with industry requirements, focusing on the practical and specialized knowledge that is needed.

In the section ahead, technical skill charters are present which outline in a structured way the following elements:

- (1) Skill description
- (2) Relevant sub-sector(s) that the skill is applicable to
- (3) Relevant job families that the skill is applicable to
- (4) Proficiency descriptions (on a scale of 1-5 levels)

Introduction to general skill charters

As part of the Tourism and Hospitality Skills Dictionary, General skill charters are developed for 21 general skills, which are derived from National Skills Framework.

General skill charters are based on the general skills development framework known as A (Audience) – B (Behavior) – C (Context) – D (Degree)

|                  |                                                                                                |
|------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Audience  | Who is it targeting – implied for all job families                                      |
| Behaviour | Practical application of behaviours that distinguish one proficiency-level from another |
| Context   | Dimensions of knowledge which provide differentiation between two proficiency levels    |
| Degree    | Degree to which the individual needs to be assessed – defined by proficiency levels     |

Additionally, general skills adopt 3 proficiency levels:
Fundamental (Level 1), Diverse (Level 2), Thorough (Level 3).

Fundamental: At this level, professional has a foundational knowledge of the skill, including key concepts and principles at an acceptable level but limited breadth

Diverse: At this level, professional has a deeper knowledge of the skill, including more nuanced concepts and principles. They can perform a wider range of tasks related to the skill and may be able to adapt their knowledge to different situations

Thorough: At this level, professional has deep knowledge of skill concepts and principles. They can perform all tasks related to the skill with a high degree of proficiency, and drive a culture centered around the importance of the skill

Introduction to general skill charters

General Skill charters present in the subsequent section are designed keeping in mind the general skills development framework and the proficiency level definitions as per global practices. The charters entail the following elements:

- (1) Skill description
- (2) Relevant skill type that is applicable to the skill
- (3) Relevant skill indicators that are applicable to the skills
- (4) Proficiency descriptions (on a scale of 1-3 levels)
